ENGL 2

Spring 2024 3 Unit(s) 01/24/2024 to 05/13/2024 Modified 01/21/2024

Course Description and Requisites

English 2 is a course that focuses on the relationship between language and logic in composing arguments. Students learn various methods of effective reasoning and appropriate rhetorical strategies to help them invent, demonstrate, and express arguments clearly, logically, and persuasively.

GE Area(s): A3. Critical Thinking and Writing

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Area A2 with a grade of "C-" or better.

Note(s): ENGL 2 is not open to students who successfully completed ENGL 1B.

Letter Graded

* Classroom Protocols

ENGL 2

This course is open to all students needing to fulfill GE Area A3 (Critical Thinking). It is not open to students who have successfully completed ENGL 1B.

Prerequisite: ENGL 1A or Stretch English (with a grade of C- or better)

Course Content

Diversity: SJSU studies include an emphasis on diversity. You will engage in integrated reading, Writing, and oral assignments to construct your own arguments on complex issues (such as diversity and ethnicity, class and social equality) that generate meaningful public debate. Readings for the course will include writers of different ethnicities, genders, and socio-economic classes.

Writing: You will write a series of essays informed by research and articulating fully developed arguments about complex issues. Assignments emphasize those skills and activities in writing and thinking that produce the persuasive argument and the critical essay, each of which demands analysis, interpretation, and evaluation. Writing assignments give you repeated practice in prewriting, organizing, writing, revising, and editing. This class requires a minimum of 6000 words, at least 4000 of which must be in revised final draft form.

Logic: You will learn methods of argument analysis, both rhetorical and logical, that will allow you to identify logical structures (such as warrants, evidence, qualification, rebuttal; enthymemes and syllogisms) and distinguish common logical fallacies.

Reading: In addition to being writing intensive, ENGL 2 is also a reading course. You will read a variety of critical and argumentative texts to help develop your skills for understanding the logical structure of argumentative writing.

Oral: You will be presenting your arguments orally to class both as an individual and as part of a group.

Faculty Web Page and MYSJSU Messaging

Course materials such as syllabus, handouts, notes, assignment instructions, etc. can be found on the Canvas Learning Management System course login website. You're responsible for regularly checking with the messaging system through MySJSU to learn of any updates. For help with using Canvas see Canvas Student Resources page.

Time Commitment

Success in ENGL 2 is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.

Final Examination or Evaluation

In ENGL 2, our learning culminates in a digital Reflection and Portfolio Assignment. In this assignment, we will gather samples of our writing that demonstrate our learning; we will write a reflection essay that explains what we have learned, how we learned it, and how we will use it in future learning; and we will submit our portfolio for consideration to other people in the first-year writing program. This is our chance to identify and articulate what we've learned and what we'll take forward with us into future learning/writing experiences.

Program Policies

First-Year Writing policies are listed at the following website:

Program Information

Welcome to this General Education course.

SJSU's General Education Program establishes a strong foundation of versatile skills, fosters curiosity about the world, promotes ethical judgment, and prepares students to engage and contribute responsibly and cooperatively in a multicultural, information-rich society. General education classes integrate areas of study and encourage progressively more complex and creative analysis, expression, and problem solving.

The General Education Program has three goals:

Goal 1: To develop students' core competencies for academic, personal, creative, and professional pursuits.

Goal 2: To enact the university's commitment to diversity, inclusion, and justice by ensuring that students have the knowledge and skills to serve and contribute to the well-being of local and global communities and the environment.

Goal 3: To offer students integrated, multidisciplinary, and innovative study in which they pose challenging questions, address complex issues, and develop cooperative and creative responses.

More information about the General Education Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs) can be found on the GE website \(https://sjsu.edu/general-education/ge-requirements/overview/learning-outcomes.php\).

Course Goals

In this course, we are going to learn the nuts, bolts, gears, and cogs of argument. We will learn first how to read, understand, and analyze the arguments of others before learning how to construct our own logical and persuasive arguments. We will learn the relationships between arguments and their intended audiences. We will also learn what argument is and is not for. The focus of this class is on monsters, both human and inhuman. We will be focusing on the societal anxieties that give rise to the darkest expressions of our imaginations and how they're expressed throughout various cultures. This class will examine various media in our exploration of monstrosity.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

GE Area A3: Critical Thinking and Writing

Area A3 courses develop students' understanding of the relationship of language to logic. By engaging students in complex issues requiring critical thinking and effective argumentation, A3 courses develop students' abilities to research and analyze important topics and to construct their own arguments on issues that generate meaningful public debate and deliberation. Courses include explicit instruction and practice in inductive and deductive reasoning as well as identification of formal and informal fallacies of language and thought. Completion of Area A2 (Written Communication I) with a minimum grade of C- is a prerequisite for enrollment in Area A3. Completion of Area A3 with a grade of C- or better is a CSU graduation requirement.

GE Area A3 Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of an Area A3 course, students should be able to:

1. locate, interpret, evaluate, and synthesize evidence in a comprehensive way, including through library research; and integrate research findings into oral and written arguments through appropriate citation

- and quotation;
2. use a range of rhetorical and logical strategies to articulate and explain their positions on complex issues in dialogue with other points of view;
  3. identify and critically evaluate the assumptions in and the contexts of arguments; and
  4. use inductive and deductive logic to construct valid, evidence-supported arguments and draw valid conclusions.

Writing Practice: Students will write a minimum of 6000 words, at least 4000 of which must be in revised final draft form.

Course Materials

Required:

King, Stephen. Danse Macabre

Recommended:

Orwell, George. 1984

Course Requirements and Assignments

Essays

There will be three major essays written throughout the semester. The bulk of the grade, however, will be determined by the process assignments leading up to the final essay. Free-writes, scaffolding assignments, and rough drafts will have a greater weight than the finished product. It's through these scaffolding assignments that you will see the greatest improvement and find the most use from feedback. Final product essays will receive a score based on level of improvement over the course of the assignment.

Reading

Class will include the reading of book length work of non fiction and a myriad of external critical and analytical essays about horror and society. The reading of this material is required to get the full class experience. Reading will be assigned for every class and is due before class starts on that particular day. Not only must you read a lot of material, but also you must read deeply, beyond the surface, and understand the material. Failure to keep up with the reading will cause you to fall behind and seriously dent our ability to hold meaningful discussions in class.

Participation

In addition to quizzes, I will be measuring participation through discussions on Canvas. The online discussion forums are designed to inspire dialogue about the material, elicit questions about sections students find confusing, and even discuss the relationships between our readings and our assignments. Students get credit for participating in the discussions each week, but please don't let the potential for meaningful discourse go to waste. If students only participate for the grade, then they've let the discussions become nothing more than busy work.

Group Project

The last three weeks of class will be devoted to a group project. This project will allow you to take everything you've learned about the intersection of horror and society and use it to create a short horror film of your own. I have allotted class time for the groups to work, so as to accommodate students' busy schedules.

Final Assessment

Our final assessment will be in the form of a portfolio, due on the day of the final. This portfolio will consist of four parts: your critical essay from Reflections on College Writing, a major assignment from this class, an annotated bibliography of your own work, and a reflective essay.

Assignment Word Counts and Learning Goals

Assignment	Word Count	GELO
Fear Analysis Process assignments	1000	2-3
Fear Analysis Final Draft	1000	2-3

Film Proposal Final Draft	1000	2-4
Research Revision Process Assignments	1000	1-4
Research Revision Final Draft	1000	1-4
Reflective Essay	500	1-4

Grading Information

Requirements for particular assignments will vary, but in all cases essay grades will reflect the paper's improvements, which are broken down into three major areas: content (this includes maturity and sophistication of thought), organization, and expression. All assignments, quizzes, and exams are graded on a four point minimum scale. The lowest grade you can get for any assignment is 50%.

Extra Credit

There is no extra credit given in this course.

Late Policy

All assignments will be turned in on Canvas. Assignments can be turned in at any point until the assignment locks. Once an assignment locks, you will receive an automatic 50% on the assignment. Many of our assignments are time sensitive. If you know you cannot make a lock deadline, you may make other arrangements with me, but must do so at least two (2) days before the due date (not necessarily the lock deadline).

Anything turned in after the due date but before the lock date will receive a reduced score.
