Unit of Study

Adolescence and the Loss of Innocence in the Search for Identity

Nessa Nauven

Rationale

Growing up + Adulthood

The Loss of Innocence

Canonical Text: The Catcher in the Rye (by: J.D. Salinger)

Chapter 6 of Adolescents in the Search for Meaning

Introducing The Unit

01

- Students will write a personal letter addressed to themselves
- Purpose: to get students thinking about the topics that will be discussed throughout the unit; encourages students to reflect on their own experiences

02

- As a class, students will work together to create their own definitions of 'identity' and 'adulthood'
- Purpose: gives students an opportunity to share their ideas and listen to what their peers have to share; encourages participation and fosters teamwork

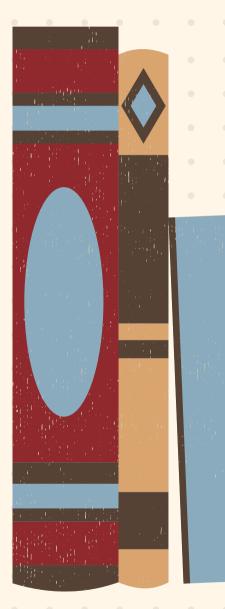

- Students will listen to the song 'You're On Your Own, Kid' by Taylor Swift • Next, they will read through the song and
- underline any lines that
- speak to them
- Discussion questions +
 - partner share

Working Through The Text

Assigned Reading

- Most of the reading will be done outside of class
- Students will read a chapter a day before class and two chapters over the weekend

heme-Tracker Cha

 Students will be given a themetracker chart to fill out as they read, which will be their homework throughout the unit • They will look for quotes/symbols/scenes that reflect the novel's recurring themes and explain the significance to both the theme and Holden's character

- Every class, I will alternate between either having students discuss in groups or lead full class discussions in which students will share their charts, as well as their thoughts on the reading
- Each class will end with students responding to the discussion question of the day in their journal independently
