About Juan: Juan Ruiz transferred from De Anza Community College in 2015 and double majored in Critical Race & Ethnic Studies and Philosophy at the University of California, Santa Cruz. Then he completed a Master's in Philosophy in 2019. Juan served as the Graduate Student Mentor for Undocumented Student Services (USS) for his graduate program. He later became an Independent Contractor and launched his Limited Liability Company to engage with UCSC as the Entrepreneur Pilot Program Manager. Currently, Juan provides workshops, consulting, and education training on pursuing graduate school and independent contracting for undocumented students. In his free time, Juan enjoys music, cooking, and walking in the forest.
